Around the Square

Police Commissioner Henry Nuetzel gave would-be thugs and muscle men around town the word: "No funny work."

He did it by letting it be known that the Police Dept.'s two cars now come equipped with shot gun brackets mounted on the dashboard.

And, in addition, the brackets will soon be equipped with shotguns—saved-off variety and 12-gauge.

Well, watta ya know dept.: The P. E. station in the Square finally got its windows washed.

You can actually see through 'em. A couple of years ago the place got painted. That was a surprise. But this—

What won't the P. E. think of next?

Yeah, and the local coppers have got new signs on their fleet of squad cars.

(Aside to Lorne Pratt: The Wistaria Vine publicity guy's really on the ball this year. City Hall may tell you that those signs were put on there for "identification purposes," but we know better. It's a Wistaria emblem and it reads, "Wistaria Town." He got it there as a travelling plug for the Wistaria Vine.)

County Supervisor Ray Darby has a regular weekly broadcast over KFI Saturday nights. But until the L. A. city elections are over his speeches will be read by Station Staffer Ted Meyers and Darby's name won't even be mentioned.

He was ruled off because it might station bigwigs said, be construed as giving his brother, Olin Darby, an unfair advantage as a candidate for Mayor because of similarity of names.

What they won't do to be impartial. And Ray had such a good Hooper rating, too.

Before we forget it, we'll pass on the latest gag being passed around by City Hallers: Not too many centuries after Creation three of that civilization's big brains got into an argument over who was the most important.

The sculptor: "Why we brought beauty into the world."

The architect: "But we created order out of chaos."

The politician: "Yeah, but we came first because we CREATED the chaos."

All is love at city hall. Not a controversy in sight. Good. Let's all have a rest this week.

PLANNERS GET NEW LAW
FOR SUBDIVISIONS HERE

Sierra Madre's subdivision law was changed last week, but not by the City Council.

The change came via interpretation by City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn during Planning Commission meeting through the simple expediency of reading aloud the State and the city definitions of "subdivision."

And as a result two petitioners, without a "peep" of argument, got their subdivisions approved and avoided the long, drawn out and expensive process required under the State Subdivision Act.

The petitioners were C. H. Gerke of 602 Mariposa avenue and Richard Thayer of the Wistaria Vine. Each had previously been faced with the problem of filing under the State Act. Gerke asked the commission for permission to divide his property on Sunnyside between Mariposa and Ramona avenues so as to get a lot facing Sunnyside.

Thayer wanted to cut off three lots from his present Vine property, divisions, however, which would not infringe on the Vine itself.

Under the "old law," as read to the commission by former City Attorney Thomas Reynolds, the planning commis-

Call For Transport
Improvement Here

Editor's Note: The third part of the report presented to the city by former city engineer Howard W. Brod discusses the Canyon problem further and gets into transportation and parking problems here.

THE TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM

BY HOWARD W. BROD

It should be requested that a "Resolution" be passed by the City Council pursuant to the following:

A statement should be made giving facts and figures on the percentage of "Heads of Families" who work in Los Angeles. The fact that most of them use private automobiles as a means of transportation should be brought out.

That the decrepit and archaic condition of the Pacific Electric System and its short comings should be described in detail. A statement should be made that practically all the people who now go by automobile would definitely prefer a modern public transportation system, preferably of the street car or train type.

It should be pointed out that the over-crowding of the Arroyo Seco Parkway and the deplorable and costly parking conditions in Los Angeles are caused by automobiles which would not be used if an adequate public transportation system were available. The proposed bus system will not remedy this situation.

It is recommended that other cities in a situation similar to Sierra Madre's in regards to transportation be contacted directly or through the League of California Cities and Resolutions also be made by these other cities and forwarded to the State Public Utilities Commission which it is expected will welcome such an expression regarding a situation they know exists but on which they have not heretofore had sufficient tangible public expression on which to base the necessary action.

"The Canyon problem might be solved by means of government aid. A recent bill introduced in the United States Senate, Bill 138 (HR 933) and

Prospect Dim For New P.O. Downtown

Sierra Madre's proposed post office is anything but "set." This was pointed out yesterday by Postmaster Eddie Robertson who said that as yet no bids had been received for construction of a building to be leased to the Post Office Department.

Bids were first called for nearly a month ago, and the closing date is April 7, he said.

If no local bids are received which will allow location of a new post office in the downtown district, the Post Office Department will call on "outside investors" who will build far from the downtown area where lots are less expensive, he said.

To provide adequate quarters, Robertson said that a building of 3500 square feet is needed. He emphasized that any structure built for the post office would not be a "one purpose building."

All interior partitions and equipment are furnished by the government. What is leased, he said, are the bare four walls equipped with two adequate wash rooms.

An investor, according to postal regulations, is entitled to a rental, under a ten year lease with options, of approximately six per cent on the gross amount invested, plus two per cent for depreciation, plus one per cent maintenance, plus taxes, insurance and any utilities furnished.

The present post office, which has been used for 22 years, cannot be enlarged because of the slope of the ground and lack of space for trucks at the side and rear.

Robertson pointed out that the present building has 2014 square feet of floor space. Since the post office was first established there the personnel has increased from two clerks and three carriers to six regular clerks, nine regular carriers and five substitute carriers.

In the past 22 years postal receipts here have jumped approximately 300 per cent and are increasing at the rate of $10,000 a year. Last year the receipts were $61,000.

Any investor interested in such a private enterprise project should contact Robertson at the Post Office.

WISTARIA QUEEN FINALISTS

A queen to reign over the 1949 Sierra Madre Wistaria Vine Fete, which opened today (Thursday), will be picked from these finalists in the Annual Wistaria Queen Contest. The Flower Festival will continue through most of April with the world-famous Wistaria Vine coming into full bloom in about a week. JUDGES NAME FIVE AS
VINE QUEEN FINALISTS

Sierra Madre's Wistaria Vine today was opened to the public as the 1949 Wistaria Fete and Flower Festival got underway.

With the opening of the fete, the three prominent Wistaria Queen judges announced the names of five finalists, one of whom will be named queen at the annual Press-Radio party to be given next week.

The finalists are Jackie Thurston, 16, 249 N. Lima St., student at M.A.D. High School; Diane Ferris, 16, 635 E. Orange Grove avenue, also a student at M.A.D. high; Nancy Springer, 16, 160 N. Mountain Trail avenue, who attends P.C.C.; Jackie Kinney, 20, 695 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, a graduate of P.C.C., and Connie Dillon, 19, 40 Monterey Lane, a graduate of Syracuse University.

Picking the girls were Norman Rockwell, noted cover artist and magazine illustrator; Edward Stevenson, head designer for RKO Pictures, and Dorothy Prebles, prominent Hollywood model agency owner.

From throughout the Southland and from every state thousands of visitors are again expected to see the vine during its blossoming season. Within another week the vine will be in full bloom, and the season will continue through most of April.

The famous vine, which covers 40,000 square feet and is still growing, is opening at the latest date in its 57 year history. The cold weather, which held it so long in dormancy, has resulted in an unusually heavy budding. As a result, the vine is expected to be even more beautiful than usual.

This year's flower festival will see a display of rare tropical plants displayed at the

Mrs. Dorothy Murphy was elected president of the Sierra Madre Civic Club at the last meeting, Thursday night. Other new officers all of whom will be installed at a special occasion in June are: Bonnie Yetko, 1st vice-president; Ruth Sauter, 2nd vice-president; Arlyne Wynne, recording secretary; Gay Bettencourt, corresponding secretary; Alta Butler, treasurer; and Jean Tate, auditor.

Mrs. Margaret Pangborn represented the club at the Los Angeles District Federation of Womens Clubs held at Long Beach Monday.

BALL PARK TO BE OPENED ON CITY DUMP GROUNDS

A baseball diamond—which can be converted into a football field—will soon be ready for the "play ball" call on what used to be the city dump grounds.

This was announced this week by Councilman Henry Nuetzel who said that the ground already was in the process of being cleared.

Accumulated rubbish at the abandoned dump site has been burned, he said, and the city is spending $500 to have the land levelled and the debris buried. A bulldozer and a "carry-all" have been on the job during the past week.

The baseball field will have a 285-foot right field with 300 feet at center field and 360 feet at left field, he said.

"This 360 feet along the east line of the site will allow us to set up a regulation football field," Nuetzel said.

He said that the V.F.W. has sponsored a new ball club. "I hope that as a result of this project, other organizations

Chamber Hears of Need for Rapid Rail Transit Here

Need for rapid rail transit for the communities of the Los Angeles area was emphasized again this week at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Outlining transportation problems at the meeting were Carl Colt of Sierra Madre, chairman of the mass transportation committee of the Rapid Transit Association, and R. O. Christiansen, general agent of the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

Colt declared that the only answer to the problem of obtaining adequate transportation was a rapid rail transit service.

Christiansen said that the P. E.'s plan for substituting buses for rail service in no way "would interfere with fast rail service development."

Swim Pool to Be Operated
By City

The city recreation commission this week had permission to operate the Canyon swimming pool again this summer.

At a joint meeting of the commission and the City Council, it was agreed that the same procedure would be followed as was established for the first time last year.

The Council agreed that the general fund would "subsidize" the pool to the extent of $400 for maintenance—a cost that has been borne by the city in the past, even when the pool operation was leased to a private party.

Commission Chairman Al Morgan told the Council that the pool probably would not run into the red this year if there was not a recurrence of polio.

At the same time the Council authorized Sam McElfresh, city recreation director, to organize a recreation co-ordinating council.

This council will be formed of representatives from 25 civic organizations. This council will make suggestions to the recreation commission, but the two will be entirely separate entities.

Boys Offered
Baseball
Opportunity

A baseball team, American Legion sponsored, is well under way. Ralph VanVleet will be at the training grounds (the local school field) Thursdays at 4:30, Saturday and Sunday at 2 o'clock, for training and to sign up boys 12 to 17, inclusive. This opportunity is the courtesy of the Ford Car, locally represented by Carl Hansen.

The team, when filled, will be known as the Junior American Legion Baseball Team.

See Better Junk Pickup Immediately

An immediate improvement in rubbish pickup under private contract was forecast today by the city's new engineer, William V. Taye.

He said that Ben Kazarian, the contractor whose helpers have raised havoc recently with the City Council's and his own public relations, will "be current in his rubbish pickups at homes as of April 6."

Right now Kazarian has cleaned up those sections of the city east of Baldwin avenue and south of Sierra Madre boulevard. The rest of the city will be cleaned up between now and April 6, Taye said.

Kazarian has added another truck and given his men a course in how to make friends and influence people by not leaving rubbish scattered all over the easements, sidewalks and streets in front of homes.

When accumulated rubbish, some of which still includes Christmas trees left over from the holidays, is picked up, then regular pickups will go into effect—beginning the first Wednesday of the month east of Baldwin and the third Wednesday, west of Baldwin, he said.

Notices to this effect will be mailed to all homes.

HARTMAN PRESIDES AT PHARMACY MEET

The San Gabriel Valley Pharmaceutical Association of which Rudolph R. Hartman is president, recently heard Edward S. Brady, assistant professor of pharmaceutical chemistry at U. S. C. talk on the antihistamine drugs which are used in allergy treatment.

Almost 50 pharmacists from the valley area attended the meet at the Pasadena Athletic Club. Following the meeting a discussion session dealt with the everyday problems of pharmacists and druggists.

The group, according to Hartman, is working toward decentralization or localization of the pharmaceutical associations so that smaller groups of men concerned may meet frequently and discuss problems and keep abreast of new developments and governmental regulations.

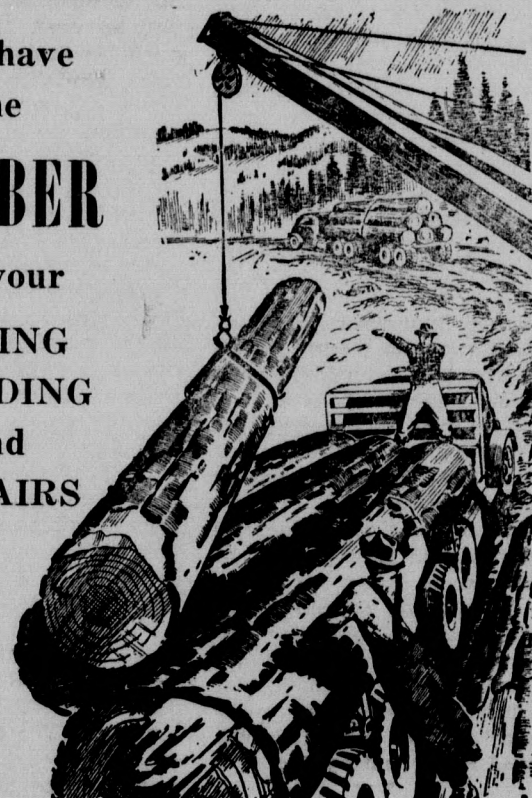

Be a good neighbor on the highway.

FRANCES ROBERTSON

Good news was received by Postmaster and Mrs. Eddie Robertson last week in a letter from their daughter, Frances Robertson, in the foreign Service of the United States in the office of the Military Attache at Sofia, Bulgaria. A few excerpts from her letter tells of her return to the States in the not too distant future:

'Queen for a Day' Takes Air Trip

Because Mrs. Sonia Lambert was chosen "Queen For A Day" on the KHJ radio program last week, she and her husband, Dick, were given a four-day pleasure trip by American Airlines to El Paso, Texas, and Mexico. They returned Monday evening.

Among Mrs. Lambert's prizes were four complete outfits of clothing, a set of airplane luggage and jewelry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, both 19, were married last November and reside at Belle Vista Terrace.

lieve me, it is really a relief to be able to get out on weekends for a little hike—the weeks are so stuffy!

"Must tell you the latest on my return, however. I can leave here any time after March 20 but may stay another month because my replacement can't get here until later. Am looking forward with glee to arriving in dear old California, so keep those wonderful steaks in cold storage until we can all sink our teeth into them together.

POLICE BLOTTER

The lights in the old school building burned, and it was past 10:30 p. m. There was no burglary. . . . Death message delivered. . . . Missing person. . . . Petty theft. . . . Furniture in the garage, left there by tenant, becomes a mystery. He forgot to ask the tenant for a name, or address. . . . Lady lost a short coat. That's nuthin', I lost my shirts. . . . Dog at the school's office. . . . Cat in a tree!

A barking puppy just a few months old was able to arouse the neighborhood into nervous fury. . . . Estranged pair have their troubles staying apart. . . . Some people complain of the cars in the street, the officers issue a few citations. There is a general hullabaloo about the tickets having been issued and some of those who so strenuously objected to cars in the narrow street, now complain because some tickets were handed out. What da heck? . . . Local truck gets involved in accident in San Gabriel. . . . Parties that appear to be frequent are becoming somewhat bothersome to neighbors. Also, the guests appear to be acting somewhat obstreperous.

At 12:25 A. M., the boys were called to investigate a woman releasing the air from the tires of a car. A nice lady with too much fire water, was placed under arrest and tucked away in the Pasadena jail. . . . "Funny noise outside." The night boys circled the building, but found no other reason for the noise than the honking frog. . . . A traffic accident. . . . When a householder chanced dumping rubbish consisting of papers, letters, etc., to the side of the road in one of our few nature beauty spots, he surely did not think of the unsightly picture he made. . . . A serious auto accident. Several women in a car seriously injured when the car overturned.

Barking dogs. . . . Truck driver backed into a light standard. Broke it. . . . A child slipped some cleaning liquid. Police and doctor Groth arrived to find that the child had only taken enough to burn the inside of her mouth a trifle. . . . Bad check passed here! . . . Cans out too early. Had to be returned from the parkway. . . . Drivers are again asked to STOP where a STOP sign is installed. STOP means only what it says, "STOP." When is a police officer to say that you stopped when you actually traveled right along?

A call for "Help" was only an echo. . . . Young men emerging from the depths of the tall grass of the Hastings Ranch made too much noise for the neighborhood. . . . Who is to blame if a citation is written. If you turn in the street, fail to stop at a boulevard STOP sign, drive too fast, take the right of way, etc., etc.? There was once a fellow who smiled and said, "Well, thanks officer, you are perfectly right in giving me a ticket, I will be more careful next time." . . . It's not a cinch to step up to a car and say, "I must write you out a citation." It's really much tougher to give than to receive in this case. Believe it or not. . . . Traffic rules must be obeyed in Sierra Madre if we are to keep the accidents down. There is much traffic in our fair city these days. You must see it. . . . When one householder puts out cans and rubbish at the wrong time, you can depend that there will be others. If we will but keep the dates in mind, our streets will not be cluttered with cans and bottles so long at a time. Until the next "Blotter"—let's close.

LT. COMDR. WRIGHT, MRS. WRIGHT ATTEND OPENING CEREMONY

Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wright attended the impressive ceremony Saturday of the commissioning by Rear Adm. Wilder D. Baker, USN, Commandant, Eleventh Naval District, of the new US Naval Reserve Training Center in Victory Park, Pasadena.

One of the finest things brought out by Adm. Baker in his speech might well be taken to heart by all. After pointing out that this magnificent training center was being provided for the youth of this area by the city of Pasadena and the Government of the U.S., the Admiral reminded his audience that it should always be in the minds of our young people, that one of the ways in which they could best repay their country for its constant care and gifts of education, health, protection, liberty, etc., was to prepare, in training centers such as this, to defend their homeland if the necessity to do so should ever arise.

Among other speakers at the ceremony was Comdr. Douglas Fairbanks, USNR, who was introduced as the "daddy" of the Pasadena Reserve training Center due to his great and constant interest in seeing that the center was first conceived and finally brought to fulfillment in Saturday's ceremony. Comdr. Fairbanks, awarded the Silver Star and other medals, wears the ribbon of the Navy Cross, second only to a Congressional Medal which was given to him for his splendid work with Lord Mountbatten's Commandos while attached to the Commando Unit.

PLANNERS

200 lots and make 4 out of it," Cornyn pointed out. "I think this is a very practical matter."

The subdivision was approved subject to any engineering problem. But the Thayers were told to find out the cost of bringing a non-conforming house on one of the proposed lots up to building code standards before applying for a variance so that additions could be made to it.

The problem of how to get an additional four feet for an alley easement just north of Sierra Madre boulevard and west from Auburn avenue was referred to Cornyn.

In approving a subdivision of property for Mayor Milton Steinberger at that corner, the commission said that 18 feet would have to be deduced to the city for the alley. Only 14 feet, however, was included in the deed. Cornyn said he would see Steinberger to determine the feasibility of getting another four feet.

As for trees, Commissioner Frank Spencer reported that the palm trees along Sierra Madre boulevard should stay. T. W. Neale had requested their removal.

"If we cut some of them down, they'll be wanting them out all over town," he said. "All trees look bad at this time of year."

"Elmer F. Bauer was allowed to subdivide a 104-foot lot into two lots across from the beginning of Mount Wilson trail so that his property would conform to small lots of the immediate neighborhood.

FIRE FLAMES

Chief Suggests "Fire Safety" Home Check

How much would your house cost to build today? Building costs have risen 109 per cent above those of 1938, making it more important than ever that home-owners protect their property, the chief declared in a statement urging all householders to co-operate in this year's Spring Clean-Up.

The house that cost $5000 before the war would cost $10,450 to build today.

Many home-owners may not have increased their insurance proportionately, and fire would be a double tragedy in the loss of the home and greatly increased costs of rebuilding, the chief warned in his request that householders start their home check-up.

HERE'S HOW TO BEGIN

Outlining a systematic clean-up it is suggested: Work from the basement up. Get rid of all rubbish, old newspapers, magazines, odd pieces of furniture or clothes that may have collected in the cellar, in the yard or garage, in closets or the attic.

Clean out the furnace and other heaters throughout the house. See that metal containers are available for ashes and that rubbish or kindling wood is never placed next to the furnace where it might ignite from the heat.

See that the ceiling and walls near the furnace are properly insulated with asbestos or other non-combustible material, leaving at least an inch of air-space.

INSPECT CHIMNEY

Clean the chimney, checking for cracks through which heat might escape. The best way to locate broken flues is to feel the walls around the chimney all the way upstairs, watching for any spot uncomfortably hot for your bare hand.

Never use kerosene or other flammable liquids to quicken a stove fire. Don't use gasoline, benzine or naphtha for home cleaning. It is safer to send clothes out to professional cleaners, but if cleaning must be done at home, be sure it's with fluids listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

Place a metal screen in front of the fireplace. See that portable heaters have guards on them and that they are so placed that they can't be knocked over easily.

Put all oily rags and mops where air can circulate freely about them. Matches should be kept in metal containers out of the reach of young children. Enough ash trays should be distributed about the house for all smokers.

REPAIR WIRING

Look over electrical wiring for signs of fraying. Don't run them under the rugs or through doorways. Buy only those cords and fuses which bear the Underwriters' Laboratories label. When replacing burned out fuses, buy only 15 ampere fuses sufficient for ordinary household use. Never "bridge" fuses with pennies or other metal bits, which prevent them from operating properly as "safety valves" to warn against shorts or overloaded circuits.

The chief announced that self-inspection guides for householders prepared by the National Board of Underwriters can be obtained at Fire Department headquarters.

Your time is not as valuable as life.

FLUSHING KIDNEYS, Often Not Enough

Doctors say true kidney trouble is not the most frequent cause of backache, painful passage, getting up nights, strong or cloudy urine. Often, these symptoms may be due to functional trouble elsewhere in the urinary system. Then what may be needed is a medicine that works THREE WAYS. DI-URIFORM is a sedative to calm and soothe the irritated tissues, while acting as an antiseptic in acid urine, to attack certain harmful bacteria. And, DI-URIFORM is also a gentle diuretic to help speed up the urinary flow. DI-URIFORM.

of rehabilitation of the canyon area under the provisions and grants of the Housing Act of 1949.

THE SANBORN MAP.

A copy of the Sanborn Map for this locality was purchased expressly for the Planning Commission and also for general city use. We have added to it through the use of airplane photographs, have brought it as up to date as possible without performing any field work. "There are many houses that have yet to be plotted on these maps and the work should be done whenever it is expeditious to do so. Once the map is brought into a current condition, it can easily be maintained by the Building Inspector who should be required to plot every new building that is constructed into the Sanborn Map Book.

THE CITY MAP

"The City Map has been brought up to date and has already been of great value in determining lot splits and other important subdivision matters. It is recommended that the City Map be kept in a current condition by checking with the County Assessor's office approximately every six months.

TRACT MAPS

"The Tract Map Book is not in good current condition. The missing and disfigured tract maps should be replaced. These can be purchased from the County Recorder.

CITY HALL.

"Plans should be formulated for the construction of a new city hall or modification of the present one.

"The present city hall is very poorly utilized and is not properly arranged for the effective administration of the city's business. Modification of the present City Hall will probably be more desirable and economical than constructing a new one.

"With proper planning the present building can be modernized to provide adequate facilities for all departments.

"These plans should be made as soon as practicable and cost estimates prepared. These costs should be included in the next budget. If this is not practicable, then the cost of doing this work should be spread over two or more years budgeting.

HOLLY TRAIL

"Holly Trail should be cleared of encroachments and a ten-foot wide one-way street constructed which would have a front outlet on Woodland Drive to be obtained by purchase of a small piece of additional right of way."

MODIFICATION OF LAND USE STANDARDS

It is recommended that the classification of land use designated as R-3 be redefined to limit as much as possible future construction of group or multiple family dwellings (this does not include hotel, boarding

Earns First Prize

Robert C. Corson (Mrs. Kenneth G.), of 584 Brookside Lane, won the first prize in the poetry division of the first annual Literary Contest of the Pasadena City College.

ROBERTA C. CORSON

dena City College. Mrs. Corson's prize-winning entries included "Freshet" and "Alaskan Village."

The prize will be awarded June 2nd at an English Department honors tea.

or rooming houses).

The two recently constructed installations of this type are not a desirable addition to the community and will lead to slums or blighted neighborhoods.

The existing sewer trunks, water mains and other utilities were not designed on a basis of this type of development in Sierra Madre and there is the possibility that the capacity of the existing facilities will be exceeded.

This would create a situation the cost of which would be prohibitive. All factors considered Sierra Madre would be a much better place in which to live if development of this type is curbed.

It is further recommended that a minimum side-line set-back be made on corner property. At the present time a minimum set-back of 25 feet is required on the street on which corner property fronts.

It is recommended that in addition to the front set-back of 25 feet a side line set-back of something in the order of a minimum of 15 feet be required from the other street.

THE OFF-STREET PARKING PROJECT

The project for providing off-street parking facilities by constructing a new street between Esperanza and Sierra Madre Boulevard from Baldwin to Hermosa is a must for this city.

There is no question that off-street parking facilities are now or will be needed in the very near future.

The survey and appraisal work should be completed as soon as possible and property owners should then be shown what benefits would result from the project.

This project is of such importance to Sierra Madre that should there be an excess of the estimate of cost for the construction over the monetary benefits to be derived, the city should make up the difference from the "general fund."
